Transfer of administration, powers and duties

3(1) The corporation is responsible to the minister:

(b) in carrying out and providing the structure for the administration and enforcement of this Act, the business statutes and any other Act that imposes or confers a duty, power or function on a business statute official.

(2) Notwithstanding any other Act or law but subject to the approval of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, the corporation may impose fees, taxes, rates and other charges for any services provided pursuant to this Act, a business statute or any other Act that imposes or confers a duty, power or function on a business statute official and may determine the amount, and manner of payment, of those fees, taxes, rates and other charges.

(4) All revenues derived from fees, taxes, rates and other charges imposed or collected pursuant to this Act, a business statute or any other Act that imposes or confers a duty, power or function on a business statute official are to be paid to and are the property of the corporation, unless the Lieutenant Governor in Council directs that all or any of the revenues be paid to the general revenue fund.

Transfer of employees

4(1) Notwithstanding any Act, law or provision of a contract, for the purpose of facilitating the administration and enforcement of this Act, the business statutes and any other Act that imposes or confers a duty, power or function on a business statute official, the chairperson of the Public Service Commission may transfer any employees in the public service within the meaning of The Public Service Act, 1998 to, and cause them to become employees of, the corporation.

(2) Notwithstanding any Act, law or provision of a contract, any transfer described in subsection (1):

(a) does not constitute the abolition or termination of any position or job;

(b) does not require any advance notice, including any notice that may be required pursuant to any Act, law or provision of a contract; and

(c) does not constitute constructive dismissal of any person or a breach of contract.

Superannuation

5 Where The Public Service Superannuation Act applies to a person who is transferred pursuant to section 4, that Act continues to apply, with any necessary modification, to the person while the person is employed by the corporation.

Transfer of assets and liabilities

(3) No action, appeal, application or other proceeding being carried on or power or remedy being exercised with respect to the things and matters mentioned in subsection (1) is to be discontinued or abated on account of this Act, but may be continued in the name of the corporation, and the corporation has the same rights, is subject to the same liabilities, and shall pay or receive the same costs as if the action, appeal, application or other proceeding had been commenced or defended in the name of the corporation.

(4) With respect to the things and matters mentioned in subsection (1), the corporation may bring, maintain and exercise in its own name any action, appeal, application or other proceeding, or exercise any power, right or remedy or right of distress that the Government of Saskatchewan could have brought, maintained or exercised.

(5) Subject to subsection (6), the corporation is responsible for all debts, liabilities and obligations of the Government of Saskatchewan with respect to the matters and things mentioned in subsection (1), and nothing in this Act affects the rights of any creditor of, or any person having a claim against, the Government of Saskatchewan with respect to those matters and things, and all those rights may be asserted against the corporation.

(6) If a claim is made or an action is brought against the corporation respecting an error or omission made in the administration or enforcement of this Act, a business statute or any other Act that imposes or confers a duty, power or function on a business statute official, any payment to be made respecting the claim or action is to be made:
