(2) Subject to subsection (3), the board shall call a special meeting of the members on receipt of a written request specifying the purpose of the meeting from:

- (a) the credit union's audit committee; or
- (b) 1% of the members but not less than 25 members.

(3) Where the credit union has a delegate structure, the board is not required to call a special meeting on the request of members pursuant to subsection (2), but shall call a special meeting of delegates on receipt of a written request specifying the purpose of the meeting from 25% of the delegates, unless the request relates to amendments to the bylaws dealing with the delegate structure.

(4) The board shall call a special meeting of shareholders in circumstances where voting rights attached to the shares are exercisable with respect to the shares and where shareholders require a meeting to exercise those rights.

(5) Subject to subsection (6), the board shall call a special meeting within 20 days after the day that it receives a request pursuant to this section.

(6) The board may refuse to call a special meeting described in subsection (2) or (3) where the proposed subject of the meeting:

- (a) has been discussed at a meeting in the six months preceding the date of the request; or
- (b) is one described in subsection 85(6).

(7) If, within 20 days after the day the board receives the request, the board does not call a special meeting and the subject-matter to be discussed at the special meeting is not one described in subsection (6), any member or any member of the audit committee who signed the request may call the meeting.

- (8) The credit union shall reimburse a member for the member's reasonable expenses incurred by the member in requesting, calling and holding the meeting pursuant to subsection (7).
- (9) The registrar may call a special meeting of members or shareholders of the credit union:
- (a) for the purpose of reporting to the members or shareholders the results of any audit, examination or other investigation of the credit union's business and affairs ordered or made by the registrar or CUDGC; or
  - (b) where the credit union fails to hold an annual meeting in the period set out in subsection 77(1) or (2), for the purpose of enabling members to secure any information regarding the business and affairs of the credit union that they are entitled to receive pursuant to this Act and the regulations and to deal with any matters affecting the credit union.
- (10) CUDGC may call a special meeting of members or shareholders of the credit union for the purpose of reporting to the members or shareholders the results of any audit, examination or other investigation of the credit union's business and affairs ordered or made by the registrar or CUDGC.

- (a) sending the notice by mail to the members, shareholders or auditor at the addresses given in the registers of the credit union; or

- (3) Notice of the time and place of a meeting of the holders of investment shares of any class that is publicly traded on a recognized stock exchange in Canada may be published once a week for at least four consecutive weeks before the date of the meeting in a newspaper in general circulation in the place where the registered office of the credit union is situated and in each place in Canada where the credit union has a transfer agent or where a transfer of the investment shares may be recorded.
- (4) The bylaws of a credit union may derogate from subsection (2), but only with respect to the manner in which notice of a meeting of members may be given to members.
- (5) A notice of a meeting of a credit union is not required to be sent to shareholders who were not registered on the records of the credit union or its transfer agent on the record date determined pursuant to section 80, but failure to receive a notice does not deprive a shareholder of the right to vote at the meeting.

(6) If a meeting of members or shareholders is adjourned for less than 30 days, it is not necessary, unless the bylaws otherwise provide, to give notice of the adjourned meeting, other than by announcement at the earliest meeting that is adjourned.

(7) If a meeting of members or shareholders is adjourned by one or more adjournments for an aggregate of 30 days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given in the same manner as for an original meeting but, unless the meeting is adjourned by one or more adjournments for an aggregate of more than 90 days, subsection 182(1) does not apply.

(8) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, where a credit union is required to send a statement, agreement, proposal or other document to its members or shareholders with a notice of a meeting and decides to insert the notice of a meeting in a newspaper pursuant to clause (2)(b), the credit union shall:

(a) in the notice, inform the members or shareholders about the document, giving a description of the document that, in the opinion of the board, is adequate to describe its nature; and

(b) make a copy of the document available to any member or shareholder who so requests and who is entitled to attend the meeting.

(9) The notice of any special meeting is required to specify the purpose for which the meeting is being called.

(10) The proceedings and the business transacted at a meeting are deemed not to be invalidated by reason only that a member or shareholder did not receive notice of the meeting.

(11) A member or shareholder who is entitled to attend a meeting may, in any manner, waive notice of the meeting.

(12) Where the regulations authorize providing notice to members using a means of electronic transmission, the credit union may provide the notice required by this section in accordance with the regulations.

  - (b) the record date for the determination of shareholders for any purpose other than one described in clause (a) is deemed to be at the close of business on the day on which the board passes a resolution relating to that purpose.
- (7) If a record date is fixed pursuant to this section, notice of the record date must be given not less than seven days before the record date:
  - (a) by advertisement in a newspaper in general circulation in the place where the credit union has its registered office and in each place in Canada where it has a transfer agent or where a transfer of its investment shares may be recorded; and
  - (b) by written notice to each stock exchange in Canada on which the investment shares of the credit union are listed for trading.

Quorum

- 81(1) Subject to subsections (3) and 84(3), the quorum at any meeting of members is the quorum prescribed in the regulations.
- (2) Subject to the bylaws, a quorum of shareholders is present at a meeting of shareholders if the holders of a majority of investment shares entitled to vote at the meeting are present in person or represented by proxy.
- (3) Subject to the bylaws, where a quorum is present at the opening of a meeting of members or shareholders, the members or shareholders present may proceed with the business of the meeting, notwithstanding that a quorum is not present throughout the meeting.

- (2) Subject to this section, where a bylaw mentioned in subsection (1) is in force, the provisions of this Part apply to meetings held pursuant to subsection (1).
- (3) If a credit union holds meetings at more than one location pursuant to subsection (1), a resolution is passed by the credit union only if:

  - (b) the resolution is presented at all of the meetings; and
  - (c) the aggregate of the votes cast in all the meetings taken as a whole approve the resolution.

- (b) the members represented by the delegates, as long as those bylaws remain in force, shall not exercise the powers of membership at any meeting;

- (7) The member or director who requests that the proposal and any statement be sent in accordance with subsection (4) or (5) with the notice of the meeting at which the proposal is to be presented shall pay the cost of sending the proposal and statement, unless the members present at the meeting provide otherwise by a majority vote.
- (8) No credit union and no person acting on behalf of a credit union incurs any liability by reason only of circulating a proposal or statement in compliance with this section.

(9) Where a credit union refuses to include a proposal in a notice of meeting, the credit union shall, within 30 days after receiving the proposal:

- (a) notify the member or director submitting the proposal of its intention not to include the proposal with the notice of meeting; and

(11) The credit union or a person claiming to be aggrieved by a proposal may apply to the court for an order permitting the credit union to not include the proposal with the notice of meeting and, where the court is satisfied that subsection (6) applies, it may make the order.

Constraints on investment share ownership

- 139(1) The total number of investment shares that may be beneficially owned by a person or by a person together with any associate of that person must not exceed 10% of the total number of any class of investment shares issued by a credit union or that are then to be issued, determined on a fully diluted basis.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a credit union may count as investment shares issued:
- (a) rights granted by a credit union to shareholders to purchase additional investment shares; and
  - (b) a distribution or an offering of investment shares.
- (3) The validity of a transfer of investment shares that has been made or recorded in the securities register of a credit union or the validity of the issuance of investment shares is not affected by the holding of the shares in contravention of this section.
- (4) If two or more persons hold the same investment shares as shareholders or as beneficial owners, each of those persons is deemed to be the sole holder of those shares for the purpose of subsection (1).
- (5) For the purposes of this Act, the percentage limit mentioned in subsection (1) does not apply to a person acting as an underwriter in connection with a distribution of investment shares during the period commencing on the commencement date of that distribution and ending 150 days after the commencement date of that distribution.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5):
- (a) “distribution” means a distribution as defined in The Securities Act, 1988;
  - (b) “underwriter” means an underwriter as defined in The Securities Act, 1988.
- (7) For the purposes of this Act, the percentage limit mentioned in subsection (1) does not apply to a person during the period commencing on the date of an amalgamation of the credit union pursuant to section 303 and ending 150 days after that date.
- (8) For the purposes of this Act, the percentage limit mentioned in subsection (1) does not apply to:
- (a) Credit Union Central or an affiliate of Credit Union Central;
  - (b) CUDGC or an affiliate of CUDGC; or
  - (c) an entity specified in the regulations.
- (9) A shareholder is deemed not to be the holder of investment shares for the purpose of determining whether this section has been contravened if the shareholder submits to the board a statutory declaration:
- (a) stating that, with respect to investment shares of which he or she is the shareholder, he or she holds those shares in right of, or for the use or benefit of, another person with whom he or she is not associated; and

(b) showing the name and address of that other person and the number of shares so held.

(10) For the purposes of this Act, if there is a contravention of the percentage limit prescribed in subsection (1), the investment shares in excess of that percentage limit shall be determined based on the order inverse to the order of registration of the shares in the securities register of the credit union.

Prohibition re dividends on certain investment shares

140(1) When investment shares are held by a person in contravention of subsection 139(1), the credit union shall not pay any dividends with respect to any of the investment shares held by that person.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a credit union may pay dividends with respect to the number of investment shares not in excess of the percentage limit mentioned in subsection 139(1) if:

(a) investment shares are held in contravention of subsection 139(1) by two or more associated persons; and

(b) the contravention was, in the opinion of the board, inadvertently caused by the acquisition of investment shares by one or more of those persons in circumstances where the person or persons who acquired the investment shares did not know:

(i) of the association; or

(ii) that the acquisition would result in the contravention.

(3) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2), the board may authorize the payment of dividends with respect to any investment shares to a shareholder who would otherwise be disentitled to them pursuant to that subsection if the board is of the opinion that:

(a) the contravention was inadvertent or is of a technical nature; or

(b) it would be inequitable not to pay dividends to the shareholder.

(4) If dividends are paid by a credit union with respect to investment shares in contravention of this section, the credit union may, by action, recover the amount of the dividends so paid from the shareholders to whom they were paid whether or not the credit union had knowledge of the contravention of this section.

Prohibition re voting

141(1) If a person holds or the members of any group of associated persons hold as shareholder, beneficial owner or partly as shareholder and partly as beneficial owner, a number of investment shares contrary to subsection 139(1), that person or those members shall not exercise the voting rights attached to the investment shares held by that person or those members.

(2) If voting rights are exercised in contravention of this section at a meeting of the shareholders, the vote or other proceeding at that meeting is not affected by reason of the exercise of the voting rights in contravention of this section, but the board may cancel the vote or proceedings and direct a new vote on the matter.

Request for information

142(1) A shareholder of a credit union shall, on the written request of the credit union given in accordance with subsection (2) and the bylaws, submit a statutory declaration to the credit union with respect to:

(a) the beneficial ownership of any investment shares of the credit union held by the shareholder;

- (b) the identity of the beneficial owner of all or any of the investment shares of which the shareholder is a holder;
  - (c) whether the shareholder is associated with any other person; and
  - (d) any other matter that the board considers relevant for the purposes of determining whether the investment shares held by the shareholder or persons associated with the shareholder are held in contravention of subsection 139(1), whether dividends have been paid in contravention of subsection 140(1) or (2), or whether voting rights have been exercised in contravention of subsection 141(1).
- (2) A request pursuant to subsection (1):
- (a) may be given by registered mail or personal service; and
  - (b) is to prescribe the period following the giving of the request, being not less than 30 days, within which the request is to be complied with.
- (3) When a statutory declaration has been requested pursuant to this section by a credit union from a shareholder and the shareholder fails or neglects to submit to the credit union a declaration satisfactory to the credit union within the time prescribed in the written request, sections 140 and 141 apply to the shareholder's investment shares as though they were investment shares held in contravention of subsection 139(1) until a declaration satisfactory to the credit union has been submitted to it.
- (4) It is a condition of every transfer of an investment share to be made or recorded in the securities register of a credit union and of the issue of any investment share of a credit union that the transferee or purchaser shall, at the request of the credit union, submit to the credit union a statutory declaration in accordance with subsection (1).
- (5) When the credit union has requested a statutory declaration pursuant to subsection (4), the credit union shall not, with respect to the person who is required to submit the statutory declaration, accept any offer to purchase an investment share or allow any transfer to be made or recorded in the securities register of the credit union unless:
- (a) the declaration has been submitted to the board; and
  - (b) it appears to the board from the declaration that the purchaser or transferee would not, by the acceptance of the offer to purchase the shares being purchased or the entry in the securities register of the investment shares being transferred, hold those shares in contravention of subsection 139(1).
- (6) A credit union may establish reasonable presumptions, procedures and rules not inconsistent with this Act for the purpose of implementing this section and sections 139 and 140 according to their intent.

Remedies

143 On the application of a credit union, the court may make all or any of the following orders:

- (a) an order directing the repayment of a dividend in accordance with subsection 140(4);

(b) if it is satisfied that directors were elected at an election at which voting rights were exercised in contravention of subsection 141(1), an order respecting:

- (ii) the term of office of directors elected at that election;

(c) an order requiring the divestiture of the investment shares held by a person in contravention of subsection 139(1);

(d) any additional order that the court may direct.

Reliance on statements, rules and knowledge

144(1) A credit union and any of its directors, officers, employees or agents may rely on any statement made in any declaration submitted pursuant to section 142, any determination made in good faith by any of them in accordance with any presumption, procedure or rule established pursuant to subsection 142(6) or the knowledge of any of its directors, officers, employees or agents in determining, for the purposes of this Act:

(a) whether any investment shares are held in contravention of subsection 139(1);

(b) whether any dividends have been paid in contravention of subsection 140(1) or (2);

(c) whether any voting rights were exercised in contravention of subsection 141(1);

(d) whether a person is associated with any other person; or

(e) any other circumstances relevant to the implementation by the credit union of sections 139, 140 and 141 according to their intent.

(2) A credit union and its directors, officers, employees or agents are not liable in an action for anything done or omitted to be done by them in good faith as a result of any conclusions made by them on the basis of the statements, the determinations or the knowledge mentioned in subsection (1).

Ruling by board

145(1) On the written application to it by any member or shareholder, beneficial owner of an investment share or other person that the board considers interested in the matter, the board may make a ruling on whether or not:

(a) any person or group of associated persons holds investment shares in contravention of subsection 139(1); or

(b) subsection 141(1) applies to any person or group of associated persons.

(2) The board is bound by a ruling made pursuant to subsection (1) unless:

(a) the applicant did not disclose to the board a fact that is, in the opinion of the board, material in making its ruling; or

(b) there is a subsequent change of circumstances that is, in the opinion of the board, material.

DIVISION 7
Corporate Finance

Power to issue shares

146 Subject to this Act, the articles and the bylaws, shares may be issued to any person, at any time and for money or in exchange for any thing or service that the board may determine.

Payment for shares

147(1) A credit union may not issue a share until it is fully paid:

- (a) in money; or
  - (b) with the approval of CUDGC, in past service or any other thing that is not less in value than the fair equivalent of the money that the credit union would have received if the share had been issued for money.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), neither a promissory note nor a promise to pay made by a person to whom a share is issued is acceptable in payment of that share.

Stated capital account

148(1) A credit union must maintain a stated capital account for each class and series of shares that it issues.

(2) A credit union must add to the appropriate stated capital account the full amount of any money, or the value of any thing or service, that it receives for shares it issues.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2) but subject to subsection (4), a credit union may add to the stated capital accounts maintained for the shares of classes or series the whole or any part of the amount of the money, or the value of the things and services, it receives in an exchange if the credit union issues shares:

- (a) in exchange for:
    - (i) property of a person who, immediately before the exchange, did not deal with the credit union at arm's length within the meaning of that expression in the Income Tax Act (Canada); or
    - (ii) shares of, or another interest in, an entity that immediately before the exchange, or that because of the exchange, did not deal with the credit union at arm's length within the meaning of that expression in the Income Tax Act (Canada); or
  - (b) pursuant to an amalgamation or arrangement, or to members or shareholders of an amalgamating entity who receive the shares in addition to or instead of securities of the amalgamated credit union.
- (4) On the issue of a share, a credit union may not add to a stated capital account with respect to the share it issues an amount greater than the amount of the money, or the value of the thing or service, it received for the share.
- (5) The proposed addition of an amount to a stated capital account maintained by a credit union with respect to a class or series of shares must be approved in advance by a special resolution of the members and, if the credit union has issued investment shares, by a separate special resolution of the shareholders, the class of shareholders or the holders of the series of investment shares that is affected by the special resolution, if:
- (a) the amount to be added was not received by the credit union as consideration for the issue of the shares; and

(b) the credit union has issued shares of more than one class or series that are outstanding.

(6) For greater certainty, a credit union is deemed, for the purposes of this Act, to have a stated capital account for its membership shares that includes each amount that has been received by the credit union for the membership shares.

Other additions to stated capital account

149(1) When an entity is continued as a credit union pursuant to this Act, it may add to a stated capital account any money, or the value of any thing or service, received by it for a share it issued.

(2) When an entity is continued as a credit union pursuant to this Act, subsection 148(2) does not apply to the money, or the value of things or services, received by it before it was continued unless the share with respect to which the money, thing or service was received is issued after the entity is continued.

(3) When an entity is continued as a credit union pursuant to this Act, any unpaid amount with respect to a share issued by the entity before it was continued and paid after it was continued is to be added to the stated capital account maintained for the shares of that class or series.

(4) For the purposes of this Act, when a credit union is continued pursuant to this Act, its stated capital account is deemed to include the amount that would have been included if the credit union had been incorporated pursuant to this Act.

(5) When a credit union is continued pursuant to this Act, subsection 148(6) applies to its membership shares.

(6) A credit union must not reduce its stated capital or any stated capital account except in the manner provided in this Act.

Surplus accounts

150 Subject to subsection 148(5), a credit union continued pursuant to this Act may, at any time, add to a stated capital account any amount it has credited to a retained earnings or other surplus account.

Shares not assessable

151 The shares of a credit union are non-assessable and the members and shareholders are not liable to the credit union or to its creditors with respect to them.

Options and rights

152(1) A credit union may issue certificates, warrants or other evidence of conversion privileges, options or rights to acquire shares or securities of the credit union.

(2) A conversion privilege, option or right to acquire membership shares may be granted only to members, and is non-transferable.

(3) The conditions of the conversion privileges, options or rights must be set out in:

(a) the certificate, warrant or other evidence; or

(b) the certificates evidencing the shares or securities to which the conversion privileges, options or rights are attached.

(4) Subject to subsection (2), conversion privileges, options or rights to acquire securities of a credit union may be made transferable or non-transferable, and options and rights to acquire shares or securities of a credit union may be made separable or inseparable from any securities to which they are attached.

Reserves

153 If the articles limit the number of authorized shares, the credit union must reserve sufficient authorized shares to meet the exercise of any conversion privileges, or any options or rights issued or granted by the credit union to acquire shares.

Holding own shares

154(1) Subject to sections 155 to 157, a credit union shall not:

- (a) hold any shares in itself; or
- (b) permit any of its subsidiaries to hold shares in the credit union, other than the minimum number of membership shares required by the bylaws of the credit union to qualify for membership in it.

(2) A credit union must cause any subsidiary that holds shares in the credit union contrary to subsection (1) to dispose of those shares no later than five years after the date on which:

- (a) it became a subsidiary; or
- (b) the credit union was continued pursuant to this Act.

Exception for holding own shares

155(1) A credit union may hold, and may permit its subsidiaries to hold, in the capacity of a legal representative, shares in itself only if the credit union or subsidiary does not have a beneficial interest in the shares.

(2) A credit union may hold shares in itself by way of security for the purposes of a transaction entered into by it in the ordinary course of a business that includes the lending of money.

Reduction of capital

156(1) Subject to subsection (2), a credit union may reduce its stated capital for any purpose, by special resolution of its members and, if an investment share is proposed to be affected by the reduction, by the holders of the investment shares.

(2) A credit union shall not reduce its stated capital if there are reasonable grounds to believe that the credit union is, or would after the payment be, insolvent.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply to a reduction of stated capital that is not represented by realizable assets.

(4) If a credit union maintains more than one stated capital account, the special resolution to reduce stated capital required by subsection (1) must specify the stated capital account or accounts from which the reduction will be deducted.

(5) A creditor of a credit union may apply to the court for an order compelling a person:

- (a) to pay to the credit union an amount equal to any liability of the person that was extinguished or reduced contrary to this section; or
- (b) to pay or deliver to the credit union any money or property that was paid or distributed to the person as a consequence of a reduction of stated capital made contrary to this section.

(6) No action or proceeding may be commenced to enforce a liability imposed by this section more than two years after the date of the act complained of.

Adjustment of stated capital account

157(1) On a redemption or acquisition of any of its shares, a credit union must adjust the stated capital account in relation to that share by the ratio of the stated capital for that class to that share.

(2) On a conversion of investment shares of a credit union into investment shares of another class or series or a change pursuant to section 299 or the redemption or exchange of investment shares pursuant to an order made pursuant to section 321, the credit union must:

(a) deduct from the stated capital account maintained for the class or series of investment shares converted or changed, or subject to the reorganization, redemption or exchange, the amount obtained by multiplying the stated capital of the investment shares of that class or series by the number of investment shares of that class or series converted or changed, or subject to the reorganization, redemption or exchange, divided by the number of issued investment shares of that class or series immediately before the conversion, change, reorganization, redemption or exchange; and

(b) add the result obtained pursuant to clause (a) and any additional amount received pursuant to the conversion, change, reorganization, redemption or exchange to the stated capital account maintained or to be maintained for the class or series of investment shares.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2) and subject to its articles, if a credit union issues two classes of investment shares and there is attached to each class a right to convert an investment share of one class into an investment share of the other class and an investment share of one class is converted into a share of the other class, the amount of stated capital attributable to a share in either class is the aggregate of the stated capital of both classes divided by the number of issued investment shares of both classes immediately before the conversion.

(4) For the purposes of this section, a credit union holding investment shares in itself as permitted by section 155 is deemed not to have redeemed or acquired them.

(5) If investment shares are issued by a credit union and are converted into investment shares of another class or series or changed pursuant to section 299 or the redemption or exchange of investment shares pursuant to an order made pursuant to section 321, those investment shares become investment shares of the other class or series of investment shares.

(6) If the articles limit the number of authorized investment shares of a class of investment shares of a credit union and issued investment shares of that class or of a series of investment shares of that class have become, pursuant to subsection (5), issued investment shares of another class or series, the number of unissued investment shares of the first-mentioned class is, unless the articles provide otherwise, increased by the number of investment shares that, pursuant to subsection (5), became investment shares of another class or series.

DIVISION 8 Dividends

Form of dividend

158(1) Subject to section 159, a credit union may pay a dividend in all or any of the following ways:

- (a) subject to subsection (2), by issuing fully paid shares of the credit union; and
  - (b) in money or property.
- (2) Membership shares may only be issued to members.
- (3) If shares of a credit union are issued in payment of a dividend, the declared amount of the dividend stated as an amount of money must be added to the stated capital account.

Limitation on paying dividends

159 A credit union may declare or pay a dividend if:

- (a) CUDGC approves the declaration or payment; and
- (b) the declaration or payment will not put the credit union in contravention of section 121 or 122.

DIVISION 9 Patronage Returns

Patronage returns

160(1) In a financial year, a credit union may allocate among and credit or pay to the members, as a patronage return, all or a part of the surplus arising from the operations of the credit union in that financial year and, with the consent of CUDGC, in any other financial year, in proportion to the business done by the members with or through the credit union in that financial year, calculated in the manner described in subsection (2) at a rate set by the board.

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1), the board may calculate the amount of the business done by each member with or through a credit union in a financial year by taking into account:

- (a) the quantity, quality, kind and value of services bought, sold, handled, marketed or dealt in by the credit union; and
- (b) the services rendered:
  - (i) by the credit union on behalf of or to the member; and
  - (ii) by the member on behalf of or to the credit union.

(3) The bylaws may provide that a credit union may allocate among and credit or pay to persons who use the services of the credit union but who are not members a portion of any surplus at a rate that is equal to or less than the rate at which the surplus is distributed to members.

(4) If a credit union allocates among and credits or pays to persons mentioned in subsection (3) a portion of any surplus, the board must calculate the business done by the non-members in the manner described in subsection (2).

Investment of patronage return

161(1) A credit union may, by bylaw, provide that the whole, or any part that the board may determine, of the patronage return of each member with respect to each financial year be applied to the purchase for the member of membership or investment shares in the credit union.

(2) If the credit union makes a bylaw for the purposes of subsection (1), the bylaw must provide for the following:

- (a) the giving of notice to each member of the number of shares purchased or to be purchased for the member;
- (b) the manner of issuance or transfer of shares;
- (c) the payment for the shares out of the patronage returns of members;
- (d) if applicable, the issuance and forwarding of certificates to members representing shares so issued or transferred.

(3) If shares of a credit union are issued in payment of a patronage return, the amount of the patronage return, stated as an amount of money, must be added to the stated capital account.

Loans from patronage returns

162 A credit union may, by bylaw, require its members to lend to it the whole, or any part that the board may determine, of the patronage returns to which they may become entitled in each financial year, on the terms and at the rate of interest that the board determines, so long as the rate of interest does not exceed the rate that is provided in the bylaws.

Insolvent credit union

163 If a credit union is insolvent, no member is required:

- (a) pursuant to section 161, to purchase shares; or
- (b) pursuant to section 162, to lend a patronage return to the credit union.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), Credit Union Central, any affiliate of Credit Union Central, CUDGC, any affiliate of CUDGC and any entity or class of entities designated in the standards of sound business practice are not, for the purposes of this Part, related parties of a credit union.

(3) For the purposes of this Part, CUDGC may, with respect to a particular credit union, designate as a related party of the credit union any person or class of persons whose direct or indirect interest in or relationship with the credit union or a related party of the credit union might reasonably be expected to affect the exercise of the best judgment of the credit union with respect to a transaction.

(4) Where a person is designated as a related party of a credit union pursuant to subsection (3), CUDGC may also designate any entity in which the person has a substantial investment and any entity controlled by that entity to be a related party of the credit union.

(5) Where, in contemplation of a person becoming a related party of a credit union, the credit union enters into a transaction with the person, the person is deemed for the purposes of this Part to be a related party of the credit union with respect to that transaction.

(6) CUDGC may, by order, designate a class of non-voting investment shares of a credit union for the purpose of this subsection.

(7) If a class of non-voting investment shares is designated pursuant to subsection (6), a person is deemed, notwithstanding clause (1)(a), not to be a related party of the credit union if the person would otherwise be a related party of the credit union only because the person has a significant interest in that class.

Non-application of Part

166(1) This Part does not apply with respect to any transaction entered into prior to the coming into force of this Part but, after the coming into force of this Part, any modification of, addition to, or renewal or extension of a prior transaction is subject to this Part.

(2) This Part does not apply with respect to:

(a) the provision of services mentioned in clause 172(1)(a); or

(b) duties outside the ordinary course of business of the credit union.

Transaction defined

(d) taking a security interest in the securities of the related party.

(2) For the purposes of this Part, the fulfilment of an obligation under the terms of any transaction, including the payment of interest on a loan or deposit, is part of the transaction, and not a separate transaction.

Prohibited transactions

168(1) Except as provided in this Part, no credit union shall, directly or indirectly, enter into any transaction with a related party of the credit union.

(2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), a credit union is deemed to have indirectly entered into a transaction with respect to which this Part applies where the transaction is entered into by an entity that is controlled by the credit union.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply where an entity that is controlled by a credit union is a financial institution incorporated, continued or formed pursuant to the laws of the Government of Canada or of a province of Canada and is subject to regulation and supervision, satisfactory to CUDGC, regarding transactions with related parties of the credit union.

(4) Subsection (2) does not apply with respect to transactions entered into by an entity that is controlled by a credit union if the transaction is a transaction or is one of a class of transactions prescribed in the standards of sound business practice.

Nominal value transactions

Secured loans

170 A credit union may make a loan to or a guarantee on behalf of a related party of the credit union or take an assignment of or otherwise acquire a loan to a related party of the credit union if:

- (a) the loan or guarantee is fully secured by securities of or guaranteed by the Government of Canada or the Government of a province of Canada; or
- (b) the loan is a loan made to a related party who is a natural person on the security of a mortgage of the principal residence of that related party.

Proof of ownership

203 A credit union must treat a person, other than one described in section 202, as being entitled to exercise the rights and privileges attached to a security if the person provides proof that the person has acquired ownership of the security by operation of law or has legal authority to exercise the rights and privileges.

Joint owners

204 If satisfactory proof of the death of a joint holder of a security is provided to a credit union, it may treat any surviving joint holders as the owner of the security.

Duties of credit union

205 A credit union is not required to inquire into the existence of, or see to the performance of, any duty owed to a third person by a registered security holder or a person who may be treated as a registered security holder.

Minors

206 If an individual who is less than 18 years of age exercises a right of ownership in a security of a credit union, no subsequent repudiation or avoidance is effective against the credit union.

Deceased owner

207(1) Subject to section 139 and any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes, a person who is an heir or a fiduciary of an estate or succession of a deceased security holder is entitled to become the registered holder or to designate a registered holder if the person deposits the following information with the credit union or its transfer agent, together with any reasonable assurances that the credit union may require:

- (a) the security certificate or, in default of one, a document proving that the deceased was the security holder;
- (b) a document proving the death of the security holder;
- (c) a document proving that the heir or fiduciary has the right under the law of the place in which the deceased was domiciled immediately before his or her death to deal with the security.

(2) A security certificate mentioned in clause (1)(a) must be endorsed:

- (a) in the case of a transfer to an heir or fiduciary, by that person; and
- (b) in any other case, in a manner acceptable to the credit union.

(3) Subject to section 139, deposit of the documents required by subsection (1) empowers a credit union or its transfer agent to record in a securities register the transmission of a security from the deceased holder to the heir or fiduciary or to any person that the heir or fiduciary may designate and to treat the person who becomes a registered holder as the owner of the securities.

Overissue

208(1) Subject to this section, the provisions of this Part that validate a security or compel its issue or reissue do not apply if the validation, issue or reissue of a security would result in overissue.

(2) If there has been an overissue and if a valid security that is similar in all respects to the security involved in the overissue is reasonably available for purchase, the person who is entitled to a validation or issue may compel the issuer to purchase and deliver that security against the surrender of the security that the person holds.

(3) If a valid security that is similar in all respects to the security involved in the overissue is not reasonably available for purchase, the person who is entitled to the validation or issue may recover from the issuer an amount equal to the price the last purchaser for value paid for the invalid security.

(4) The overissued securities are valid from the date they were issued only if the issuer increases the number of its authorized securities to a number equal to or greater than the number of securities previously authorized plus the number of the securities overissued.

Overissue payment or purchase exempt from certain provisions

209 Sections 124 and 157 do not apply to a payment or purchase by an issuer pursuant to section 208.

DIVISION 4
Proceedings

Rules of action

210 The following rules apply in an action on a security:

- (a) each signature on the security certificate or in a necessary endorsement is admitted unless specifically denied in the pleadings;
- (b) a signature on the security certificate is presumed to be genuine and authorized but, if the effectiveness of the signature is in issue, the burden of establishing that it is genuine and authorized is on the party claiming under the signature;
- (c) if a signature is admitted or established, production of a certificate entitles the holder to recover on it unless the other party establishes a defence or defect going to the validity of the security;
- (d) if the other party establishes the defence or defect, the plaintiff has the burden of establishing that the defect is ineffective against the plaintiff or some other person under whom the claim is made.

DIVISION 5
Delivery

Delivery of securities

211(1) A person who is required to deliver securities may deliver any security of the specified issue:

- (a) in bearer form;
- (b) in registered form in the name of the transferee; or
- (c) endorsed to the person or in blank.

(2) Subsection (1) is subject to any agreement to the contrary, to any applicable Act of Saskatchewan or Act of Canada or of any other province or to any applicable regulation or rule of an exchange.

DIVISION 6
General

Incorporation by reference

212(1) The terms of a security include those stated on the security and those incorporated by reference to another document, an Act of Saskatchewan or an Act of Canada or of any other province, regulation, rule or order to the extent that the incorporated terms do not conflict with those stated on the security.

(2) Subsection (1) applies to a good faith purchaser but the incorporation by reference is itself not notice of a defect to the purchaser notwithstanding that the security expressly states that a person accepting it admits that notice.

Validity of security

213 A security is valid in the hands of a good faith purchaser.

Security not genuine

214 Subject to section 217, the fact that a security is not genuine is a complete defence even against a good faith purchaser.

Defences

215 All defences, other than the defence mentioned in section 214, of an issuer, including non-delivery and conditional delivery of a security, are ineffective against a good faith purchaser.

Deemed notice

216(1) A purchaser is deemed to have notice of any defect in the issue of a security or any defence of the issuer if the security becomes stale within the meaning of subsection (2).

(2) A security becomes stale if:

(a) the purchaser takes the security more than two years after:

(i) the date on which performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security was due; or

(ii) the set date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange; or

(b) the payment of money or the delivery of securities is required in order to present or surrender the security, the money or securities are available on the day for the payment or delivery and the purchaser takes the security more than one year after that day.

Unauthorized signature

217(1) Subject to subsection (2), an unauthorized signature on a security is ineffective.

(2) An unauthorized signature on a security is effective in favour of a good faith purchaser if the signature was made by:

(a) an authenticating trustee, transfer agent or other person entrusted by the issuer with the duty to sign the security, or similar securities, or to prepare them for signing; or

(b) an employee of the issuer or a person mentioned in clause (a) who handles the security in the ordinary course of his or her duties.

Completion of form

218 If a security contains the signatures necessary for its issue or transfer but is incomplete in another respect, any person may complete it in accordance with his or her authority.

Enforceability

219 A security that was completed incorrectly is enforceable by a good faith purchaser.

Fraud

220 A completed security that was improperly altered, notwithstanding that it was fraudulently altered, remains enforceable but only according to its original terms.

Guarantees

221(1) Any person who signs a security as an authenticating trustee, transfer agent or other person entrusted by the issuer with the duty to sign the security is deemed to guarantee to a good faith purchaser that:

(a) the security is genuine;

(b) the person's acts in connection with the security are within the person's authority; and

(c) the person has reasonable grounds for believing that the security is in the form and within the amount the issuer is authorized to issue.

(2) Unless agreed otherwise, a person mentioned in subsection (1) does not assume any further liability for the validity of the security.

Acquisition of rights

222(1) Subject to section 139, on delivery of a security, the purchaser of the security acquires the rights in it that the transferor had or had authority to convey.

(2) A good faith purchaser of a security acquires it free from any adverse claim.

(3) A purchaser who was a party to a fraud or illegality affecting a security or who, as a prior holder, had notice of an adverse claim does not have a better position by taking from a later good faith purchaser.

Limited interests

223 A purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased.

Deemed notice

224(1) A purchaser of a security, or a broker for a seller or purchaser, is deemed to have notice of an adverse claim if:

(a) the security has been endorsed "for collection" or "for surrender" or for some purpose other than transfer; or

(b) the security is in bearer form and has a statement on it that it belongs to a person other than the transferor.

(2) The mere writing of a name on a security is not a statement for the purposes of clause (1)(b).

No duty to inquire

225(1) A purchaser of a security, or a broker for a seller or purchaser, has no duty to inquire into the rightfulness of the transfer and, subject to section 226, has no notice of an adverse claim.

(2) Subsection (1) applies notwithstanding that the purchaser or broker has notice that the security is held by a third person or is registered in the name of or endorsed by a fiduciary.

Deemed notice

226 A purchaser or broker who knows that the transaction is for the personal benefit of the fiduciary or is otherwise in breach of the fiduciary's duty is deemed to have notice of an adverse claim.

Staleness

227(1) The following events do not constitute notice of an adverse claim except if the security becomes stale within the meaning of subsection (2):

(a) an event that creates a right to performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security;

(b) an event that sets the date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange.

(2) A security becomes stale if:

(a) the purchaser takes the security more than one year after:

(i) the date on which performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security was due; or

(ii) the date on or after which the security was to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange; or

(b) the payment of money or the delivery of securities is required in order to present or surrender the security, the money or securities are available on the day for the payment or delivery and the purchaser takes the security more than six months after that day.

Guarantee

228(1) A person who presents a security for registration of transfer or for payment or exchange guarantees to the issuer that the person is entitled to do so.

(2) A good faith purchaser who receives a new, reissued or reregistered security and who registers a transfer guarantees only that the purchaser has no knowledge of any unauthorized signature in a necessary endorsement.

Content of guarantee

229 A person who transfers a security to a purchaser for value guarantees by the transfer only that:

- (a) the transfer is effective and rightful;
- (b) the security is genuine and has not been materially altered; and
- (c) the person knows of nothing that might impair the validity of the security.

Guarantee of intermediary

230 An intermediary delivering a security to a purchaser who knows that the intermediary is an intermediary guarantees only good faith.

Guarantee of broker

231(1) A broker:

- (a) gives to a customer, to the issuer and to a purchaser the guarantees provided in sections 228 to 230; and
- (b) has the rights and privileges of a purchaser pursuant to those sections.

(2) The guarantees of and in favour of a broker acting as an agent are in addition to guarantees given by the customer and guarantees given in favour of the customer.

Right to compel endorsement

232(1) If a registered security is delivered to a purchaser without a necessary endorsement, the purchaser has the right to demand the endorsement.

(2) The purchaser becomes a good faith purchaser after the endorsement is given pursuant to subsection (1).

Definition of "appropriate"

233(1) In this section, section 234, subsections 241(1), 244(4) and 249(1) and section 253, "appropriate", with respect to a person, means that the person is:

- (a) the person who is specified by the security or by a special endorsement to be entitled to the security;
- (b) if a person described in clause (a) is described as a fiduciary but is no longer serving as one, either that person or his or her successor;
- (c) if the security or endorsement mentioned in clause (a) specifies more than one person as a fiduciary and one or more of those persons is no longer a fiduciary, the remaining fiduciary or group of fiduciaries, whether or not a successor has been appointed or qualified;

(d) if a person described in clause (a) is an individual and is without capacity to act by reason of death, incompetence, minority or other incapacity, the person's fiduciary;

(e) if the security or endorsement mentioned in clause (a) specifies more than one person with right of survivorship and by reason of death not all of the persons can sign, the survivor or group of survivors;

(f) a person who has the legal power to sign; or

(g) to the extent that a person described in any of clauses (a) to (f) may act through an agent, the person's authorized agent.

(2) The authority of a person signing is determined as of the time of signing.

Endorsement

234(1) An endorsement of a security in registered form for the purposes of assignment or transfer is made when an appropriate person signs either the security or a separate document, or when the signature of an appropriate person is written, without more being required, on the back of the security.

(2) An endorsement may be:

(a) in blank; or

(b) special.

(3) An endorsement in blank includes an endorsement to bearer.

(4) A special endorsement specifies the person to whom the security is to be transferred, or who has power to transfer it.

(5) A holder may convert an endorsement in blank into a special endorsement.

Immunity of endorser

235 Unless agreed otherwise, the endorser does not, by the endorsement, assume any obligation that the security will be honoured by the issuer.

Partial endorsement

236 An endorsement purporting to be an endorsement of only part of a security representing units intended by the issuer to be separately transferable is effective to the extent of the endorsement.

Effect of failure by fiduciary to comply

237 Failure of a fiduciary to comply with the document that is the source of the fiduciary's power or with the law of the jurisdiction governing the fiduciary relationship does not render the fiduciary's endorsement unauthorized for the purposes of this Part.

Effect of endorsement without delivery

238 An endorsement of a security does not constitute a transfer until delivery of the security on which it appears or, if the endorsement is on a separate document, until delivery of both the security and the document.

Endorsement in bearer form

239 An endorsement of a security in bearer form may give notice of an adverse claim pursuant to section 224 but does not otherwise affect any of the holder's rights.

Effect of unauthorized endorsement

240(1) The owner of a security may assert the ineffectiveness of an endorsement against the issuer or a purchaser, other than a good faith purchaser who has in good faith received a new, reissued or reregistered security on registration of transfer, unless the owner:

- (a) has ratified an unauthorized endorsement of the security; or
- (b) is otherwise precluded from impugning the effectiveness of an unauthorized endorsement.

(2) An issuer who registers the transfer of a security on an unauthorized endorsement is liable for improper registration.

Warranties of guarantor of signature

241(1) A person who guarantees the signature of an endorser of a security warrants that, at the time of signing, the signer was an appropriate person and the signature was genuine.

(2) A person who guarantees the signature of an endorser does not otherwise warrant the rightfulness of the transfer to which the signature relates.

(3) A person who guarantees the endorsement of a security warrants both the signature and the rightfulness, in all respects, of the transfer to which the signature relates, but an issuer may not require a guarantee of endorsement as a condition to registration of transfer.

(4) The guarantees mentioned in subsections (1) to (3) are to be treated as being made to any person who, relying on the guarantee, takes or deals with the security, and the guarantor is liable to the person for any loss resulting from breach of warranty.

Presumption of delivery

242 Delivery of a security to a purchaser occurs when:

- (a) the purchaser or a person designated by the purchaser acquires possession of it;
- (b) the purchaser's securities broker acquires possession of a security specially endorsed to or issued in the name of the purchaser;
- (c) the purchaser's securities broker sends the purchaser confirmation of the purchase and the broker in the broker's records identifies a specific security as belonging to the purchaser; or
- (d) with respect to an identified security to be delivered while still in the possession of a third person, that person acknowledges that it is held for the purchaser.

Presumption of ownership

243(1) A purchaser is the owner of a security held for the purchaser by a securities broker, but a purchaser is not a holder except in the cases described in clauses 242(b) and (c).

(2) If a security is part of a fungible bulk, a purchaser of the security is the owner of the proportionate interest in the fungible bulk.

(3) Notice of an adverse claim received by a securities broker or by a purchaser after the broker takes delivery as a holder for value is not effective against the broker or the purchaser, except that, as between the broker and the purchaser, the purchaser may demand delivery of an equivalent security with respect to which no notice of an adverse claim has been received.

Delivery of security

244(1) Unless agreed otherwise, if a sale of a security is made on an exchange or otherwise through securities brokers:

- (a) the selling customer fulfils his or her duty to deliver when the customer delivers the security to the selling securities broker or to a person designated by the selling securities broker or when they cause an acknowledgement to be made to the selling securities broker; and
  - (b) the selling securities broker, including a correspondence broker, acting for a selling customer fulfils his or her duty to deliver by:
    - (i) delivering the security or a like security to the buying securities broker or to a person designated by the buying securities broker; or
    - (ii) effecting clearance of the sale in accordance with the rules of the exchange on which the transaction took place.
- (2) Except as provided otherwise in this section and unless agreed otherwise, a transferor's duty to deliver a security pursuant to a contract of purchase is not fulfilled until the transferor:
- (a) delivers the security in negotiable form to the purchaser or to a person designated by the purchaser; or
  - (b) causes an acknowledgement to be made to the purchaser that the security is held for the purchaser.
- (3) A sale to a securities broker purchasing for the securities broker's own account is subject to subsection (2) and but not to subsection (1), unless the sale is made on an exchange.
- (4) A transfer or pledge of a security shown in the records of a clearing agency, or an interest in that security, may also be effected by making an appropriate entry in the records of the clearing agency if the security is evidenced by:
- (a) a security certificate in the custody of the clearing agency or a custodian, or a nominee of either the agency or custodian, subject to the instructions of the clearing agency, and is in bearer form or endorsed in blank by an appropriate person or registered in the name of the clearing agency, custodian or nominee; or
  - (b) an uncertified security registered or recorded in records maintained by or on behalf of the credit union in the name of the clearing agency, custodian or nominee, subject to the instructions of the clearing agency.
- (5) Entries may be with respect to like securities or interests in them as part of a fungible bulk pursuant to subsections (4) and (7) to (11) and may refer merely to a quantity of a particular security without reference to the name of the registered owner, certificate or bond number or other similar designation.
- (6) In appropriate cases, the entries may be on a net basis taking into account other transfers or pledges of the same security.
- (7) A transfer or pledge pursuant to subsections (4), (5) and (8) to (11) has the effect of a delivery of a security in bearer form or duly endorsed in blank representing the amount of the obligation or the number of shares or rights transferred or pledged.

(8) If a pledge or the creation of a security interest is intended, the making of entries has the effect of a taking of delivery by the person to whom the security interest is pledged or a secured party, and the person or secured party is deemed to have taken possession for all purposes.

(9) A person depositing a security certificate or an uncertified security with a clearing agency, or a transferee or person to whom the security is pledged pursuant to any of subsections (4) to (8), (10) and (11), is deemed to be a holder of the security and is deemed to have possession of the security so deposited, transferred or pledged for all purposes.

(10) A transfer or pledge pursuant to subsections (4) to (9) or subsection (11) does not constitute a registration of transfer pursuant to section 249.

(11) The fact that entries made in the records of the clearing agency as provided in subsection (4) are not appropriate does not affect the validity or effect of the entries nor the liabilities or obligations of the clearing agency to any person adversely affected by them.

Right to reclaim possession

245(1) A person against whom the transfer of a security is wrongful may, against anyone except a good faith purchaser:

- (a) reclaim possession of the security or obtain possession of a new security evidencing all or part of the same rights; or
- (b) claim damages.

(2) If the transfer of a security is wrongful by reason of an unauthorized endorsement, the owner may reclaim possession of the security, including reclaiming from a good faith purchaser, or claim a new security if the ineffectiveness of the purported endorsement is asserted against the purchaser pursuant to section 240.

Right to requisites for registration

246(1) Unless agreed otherwise, a transferor must, on demand, supply a purchaser with proof of the transferor's authority to transfer a security or with any other requisite that is necessary to obtain registration of the transfer of a security, but if the transfer is not for value, it is not necessary for the transferor to provide authority to transfer unless the purchaser pays the reasonable and necessary costs of the proof and transfer.

(2) If a transferor fails to comply with a demand pursuant to subsection (1) within a reasonable time, the purchaser may reject or rescind the transfer.

Seizure of security

247 No seizure of a security or other interest evidenced by the security is effective until the person making the seizure obtains possession of the security.

Not liable if good faith delivery

248 An agent or a bailee or depositary, who in good faith has received securities and sold, pledged or delivered them according to the instructions of the pledgor, depositor or principal, is not in breach of a fiduciary duty or otherwise liable even though he or she has no right to dispose of the securities.

Duty to register transfer

249(1) Subject to section 139, if a security in registered form is presented for transfer, the issuer must register the transfer if:

- (a) the security is endorsed by an appropriate person;

- (b) reasonable assurance is given that the endorsement is genuine and effective;
  - (c) the issuer has no duty to inquire into adverse claims or has discharged that duty;
  - (d) all applicable laws relating to the collection of taxes have been complied with;
  - (e) the transfer is rightful or is to a good faith purchaser; and
  - (f) any transfer fee mentioned in section 192 has been paid.
- (2) An issuer who has a duty to register a transfer of a security is liable to the person presenting it for registration for any loss resulting from an unreasonable delay in registration or from the failure or refusal to register the transfer.

Assurance of endorsement

- 250(1) An issuer may require an assurance that each necessary endorsement on a security is genuine and effective by requiring a guarantee of the signature of the person endorsing the security and by requiring:
- (a) if the endorsement is by an agent, reasonable assurance of authority to sign;
  - (b) if the endorsement is by a fiduciary, evidence of appointment or incumbency;
  - (c) if there is more than one fiduciary, reasonable assurance that all who are required to sign have done so; and
  - (d) in any other case, assurance that corresponds as closely as is feasible to the cases set out in clauses (a) to (c).
- (2) For the purpose of subsection (1), a guarantee of the signature of a person is sufficient if it is signed by or on behalf of a person whom the issuer believes, on reasonable grounds, to be a responsible person.
- (3) An issuer may adopt reasonable standards to determine what a responsible person is for the purpose of subsection (2).
- (4) For the purpose of clause (1)(b), the following constitute sufficient evidence of appointment or incumbency of a fiduciary:
- (a) in the case of a fiduciary of a deceased security holder's estate or succession, a certified copy of the document mentioned in clause 207(1)(c) and dated not earlier than 60 days before the day a security is presented for transfer;
  - (b) in the case of any other fiduciary, a copy of a document showing the appointment or incumbency or other evidence believed by the issuer to be appropriate.
- (5) An issuer may adopt reasonable standards with respect to evidence mentioned in clause (4)(b).
- (6) An issuer is deemed not to have notice of the contents of a document mentioned in subsection (4) that is obtained by the issuer except to the extent that the contents relate directly to appointment or incumbency.

Notice from additional documentation

251 If an issuer, in relation to a transfer, requires assurance other than an assurance specified in subsection 249(1) and obtains a copy of a will, trust or partnership agreement or a bylaw or similar document, the issuer is deemed to have notice of all matters contained in the document that affect the transfer.

Limited duty of inquiry

252(1) An issuer to whom a security is presented for registration has a duty to inquire into adverse claims if the issuer:

- (a) receives written notice of an adverse claim at a time and in a manner that provides the issuer with a reasonable opportunity to act on it before the issue of a new, reissued or reregistered security and the notice discloses the name and address of the claimant, the registered owner and the issue of which the security is a part; or
- (b) is deemed to have notice of an adverse claim from a document that it obtained pursuant to section 251.

(2) An issuer may discharge a duty of inquiry by any reasonable means, including notifying an adverse claimant by registered mail sent to the address provided by the adverse claimant or, if no address has been provided, to the adverse claimant's residence or regular place of business that a security has been presented for registration of transfer by a named person and that the transfer will be registered unless, not later than 30 days after the date of sending the notice, the issuer:

- (a) is served with a restraining order or other order of the court; or
- (b) is provided with an indemnity bond sufficient in the issuer's judgment to protect the issuer and any transfer agent or other agent or mandatary of the issuer from any loss that may be incurred by any of them as a result of complying with the adverse claim.

Inquiry into adverse claim

253(1) Unless an issuer is deemed to have notice of an adverse claim from a document that is obtained pursuant to section 251 or has received notice of an adverse claim pursuant to subsection 256(1), if a security presented for registration is endorsed by the appropriate person, the issuer has no duty to inquire into adverse claims.

(2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1):

- (a) an issuer registering a security in the name of a person who is a fiduciary or who is described as a fiduciary:
  - (i) is not bound to inquire into the existence, extent or correct description of the fiduciary relationship; and
  - (ii) may assume without inquiry that the newly registered owner continues to be the fiduciary until the issuer receives written notice that the fiduciary is no longer acting in that capacity with respect to the particular security;
- (b) an issuer registering a transfer on an endorsement by a fiduciary has no duty to inquire into whether the transfer is made in compliance with the document or with the law of the jurisdiction governing the fiduciary relationship; and

- (c) an issuer is deemed not to have notice of the contents of a court record or a registered document notwithstanding that:
  - (i) the record or document is in the issuer's possession; and
  - (ii) the transfer is made on the endorsement of a fiduciary to the fiduciary specifically or to the fiduciary's nominee.

Duration of notice of adverse claim

254 A written notice of adverse claim received by an issuer is effective for 12 months after the day it was received unless the notice is renewed in writing.

Limitation on issuer's liability

255(1) Except as provided otherwise in any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes, an issuer is not liable to the owner or any other person who incurs a loss as a result of the registration of a transfer of a security if:

- (a) the necessary endorsements were on or with the security; and
  - (b) the issuer had no duty to inquire into adverse claims or had discharged that duty.
- (2) If an issuer has registered a transfer of a security to a person not entitled to it, the issuer must, on demand, deliver a like security to the owner unless:
- (a) the issuer is not liable by virtue of subsection (1);
  - (b) the owner is precluded by subsection 245(1) from asserting a claim; or
  - (c) the delivery would result in an overissue to which section 208 applies.

Lost or stolen security

256(1) The owner of a security who fails to notify the issuer of an adverse claim, in writing, within a reasonable time after the owner knows of a loss, apparent destruction or wrongful taking of the security is precluded from asserting against the issuer a claim to a new security if the issuer has registered a transfer of the security.

- (2) If the owner of a security claims that the security has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, the issuer shall issue a new security in place of the original security if the owner:
- (a) requests the issuance before the issuer has notice that the security has been acquired by a good faith purchaser;
  - (b) provides the issuer with a sufficient indemnity bond; and
  - (c) satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the issuer.
- (3) If, after the issue of a new security pursuant to subsection (2), a good faith purchaser of the original security presents the original security for registration of transfer, the issuer shall register the transfer unless registration would result in an overissue to which section 208 applies.
- (4) In addition to the rights that an issuer has by reason of an indemnity bond, the issuer may recover the new security issued pursuant to subsection (2) from the person to whom it was issued or any person taking under that person other than a good faith purchaser.

- (b) the same obligations to the holder or owner of a security and the same rights, privileges and immunities as the issuer.

Notice to agent

258 Notice to an authenticating trustee, transfer agent or other agent of an issuer is notice to the issuer with respect to the functions performed by the agent.

  - (iii) the changes in financial position of the credit union for that financial year; and
- (d) the information required by section 260 .

(2) The board shall furnish a copy of the materials mentioned in subsection (1) to CUDGC within:

- (a) 10 days before the annual meeting at which the materials are to be considered; or

DIVISION 2
Amalgamation

Amalgamation of credit unions

303(1) Two or more credit unions may amalgamate and continue as one credit union.

  - (e) the manner of payment of money instead of the issue of fractional shares of the amalgamated credit union or of any other entity the securities or membership shares of which are to be received in the amalgamation;
  - (f) whether the bylaws of the amalgamated credit union are to be those of one of the amalgamating credit unions and, where not, a copy of the proposed bylaws;
  - (g) details of any arrangements necessary to perfect the amalgamation and to provide for the subsequent management and operation of the amalgamated credit union; and
  - (h) the proposed effective date of the proposed amalgamation.
- (2) Where shares of one of the amalgamating credit unions or entities are held by or on behalf of another of the amalgamating credit unions or entities:
- (a) the amalgamation agreement is required to provide for the cancellation of those shares when the amalgamation becomes effective without any repayment of capital with respect to those shares; and
  - (b) no provision is to be made in the agreement for the conversion of those shares into shares of the amalgamated credit union.

Member and shareholder approval

- 305(1) The board of an amalgamating credit union shall submit an amalgamation agreement made pursuant to section 304 for approval to a meeting of:
- (a) the members of the amalgamating credit union of which they are directors; and
  - (b) the holders of each class or series of investment shares of the credit union.
- (2) The directors of each amalgamating entity other than a credit union shall submit an amalgamation agreement made pursuant to section 304 for approval to a meeting of the members or persons entitled to vote on the affairs of that entity and to the holders of each class or series of the securities of the entity.

- (5) Each investment share of an amalgamating credit union carries the right to vote with respect to an amalgamation whether or not it otherwise carries the right to vote.
- (6) Where an amalgamation agreement contains a provision that if contained in a proposed amendment to the articles would entitle the holders of a class of investment shares or a series of investment shares to vote as a class or series pursuant to subsection 298(4), the holders of a class of investment shares or a series of investment shares of an amalgamating credit union are entitled to vote separately as a class or series with respect to an amalgamation.
- (7) An amalgamation agreement is adopted when:
- (a) in the case of a credit union:
    - (i) the members approve the amalgamation by special resolution; and
    - (ii) where the credit union has investment shares, the shareholders approve the amalgamation by special resolution;
  - (b) in the case of an entity, each member or person entitled to vote on the affairs of that entity and the holders of each class or series of the securities of the amalgamating entity approve the amalgamation by special resolution.
- (8) An amalgamation agreement may provide that at any time before the issue of a certificate of amalgamation the agreement may be terminated by the board of an amalgamating credit union, notwithstanding approval of the agreement by the members and shareholders of all or any of the amalgamating credit unions or entities.

(9) Failure to include the statement of the right to dissent in clause (3)(b) or (4)(b) does not invalidate the notice of meeting.

(10) In the case of an amalgamation with another credit union, where the assets of the other credit union with which the amalgamating credit union proposes to amalgamate are less than 10% of the assets of the amalgamating credit union:

- (a) members' and shareholders' approval, by special resolution, for the amalgamating credit union's amalgamation is not required; and
- (b) the amalgamation may be approved by the board of the amalgamating credit union.

Subsidiary amalgamations

306(1) A credit union and one or more of its wholly-owned subsidiaries may amalgamate and continue as one credit union without complying with section 305 if:

- (b) there is an amalgamation agreement providing that:
  - (i) the shares of each amalgamating subsidiary are to be cancelled without any repayment of capital with respect to those shares;
  - (ii) the articles of amalgamation are to be the same as the articles of incorporation of the amalgamating credit union; and
  - (iii) the stated capital of the amalgamated credit union is to be the same as that of the amalgamating credit union.

(2) Before two or more wholly-owned subsidiaries of the same credit union may amalgamate and continue as one corporation, there must be an amalgamation agreement providing that:

- (a) the shares of all but one of the amalgamating subsidiaries are to be cancelled without any repayment of capital with respect to those shares;
- (b) the articles of amalgamation are to be the same as the articles of incorporation of the amalgamating subsidiary whose shares are not cancelled; and
- (c) the stated capital of the amalgamating subsidiaries whose shares are cancelled is to be added to the stated capital of the amalgamating subsidiary whose shares are not cancelled.

Articles of amalgamation

307(1) After an amalgamation agreement is adopted pursuant to section 305 or 306, the amalgamating credit unions and entities shall send articles of amalgamation in the form prescribed in the regulations to the registrar.

(2) The articles of amalgamation are required to have attached to them a statutory declaration of a director or an officer of each amalgamating credit union and entity that establishes to the satisfaction of the registrar that there are reasonable grounds for believing that:

- (a) the amalgamated credit union will be able to pay its liabilities as they become due;
- (b) the realizable value of the amalgamated credit union's assets will not be less than the aggregate of its liabilities and stated capital of all classes;

- (c) no creditor will be prejudiced by the amalgamation or that adequate notice has been given to all known creditors of the amalgamating credit unions and entities and no creditor has objected to the amalgamation on any ground other than grounds that are frivolous or vexatious; and
  - (d) CUDGC has approved the amalgamation.
- (3) For the purposes of clause (2)(c), adequate notice is given where:
- (a) unless otherwise exempted by the registrar, a written notice is sent to each known creditor having a claim against the credit union or entity that is greater than $10,000 or any greater amount set out in the regulations;
  - (b) a notice is published once in a newspaper published or distributed in the place where the credit union or entity has its registered office and reasonable notice of the amalgamation is given in each province of Canada where the credit union or entity carries on business; and

Effect of certificate

308(1) Where the registrar receives articles of amalgamation, the registrar shall issue a certificate of amalgamation in accordance with section 422 if the registrar is satisfied that:

- (a) the conditions described in subsection 307(2) have been met;
  - (b) the entity proposing to amalgamate as a credit union has the ability to comply with the requirements established in this Act and the regulations and the standards of sound business practice; and

(a) in the case of an extra-provincial credit union, it is authorized to do so by the laws of the jurisdiction where it is incorporated or continued; or

(b) in the case of any other entity:

(i) it is authorized to do so by the Act pursuant to which it was incorporated; and

(ii) in the opinion of the registrar, it will be operated as a credit union and has the ability to comply with the requirements established in this Act and the regulations and the standards of sound business practice.

(2) An entity that applies for a certificate of continuance pursuant to subsection (1) may effect in its articles of continuance any change or amendment to its articles, where the change or amendment is a change or amendment a credit union incorporated pursuant to this Act may make to its articles.

(3) An entity that applies for a certificate of continuance shall send to the registrar:

(5) On and after the date shown in the certificate of continuance issued pursuant to subsection (4):

(a) the entity becomes a credit union to which this Act applies as if it had been incorporated pursuant to this Act;

(b) the articles of continuance are deemed to be the articles of incorporation of the continued credit union;

(c) the certificate of continuance is deemed to be the certificate of incorporation of the continued credit union;

- (d) the articles and bylaws of the entity in effect prior to the date shown in the certificate of continuance do not apply; and
  - (e) in the case of an entity incorporated pursuant to an Act, no provision of that Act applies to the continued credit union unless the articles provide otherwise.

- (a) whether the share is fully paid; and
  - (b) any designation, preferences, rights, privileges, restrictions, limitations or conditions set out or referred to in the certificate representing the share.
- (3) Where an entity is continued as a credit union pursuant to this Act:

  - (b) the holders of the common shares of the entity become the members of the credit union; and
  - (c) any agreement made before continuance under which the holders of any common shares of the entity have agreed to vote those shares in a manner provided in the agreement is of no effect.
- (4) The continuance of an entity as a credit union pursuant to this Act does not deprive a shareholder of any right or privilege that the shareholder claims under an issued share or relieve a shareholder of any liability with respect to an issued share.

- (5) Where a credit union continued pursuant to this Act had, before it was continued, issued a share certificate for an investment share in registered form that is convertible to bearer form and a holder of that share certificate exercises the conversion privilege attached to the share, the credit union shall issue a share certificate in bearer form for the same number of shares to the holder.
- (6) Where the registrar determines, on the application of an entity, that it is not practicable to change a reference to the nominal or par value of investment shares of a class or series that the entity was authorized to issue before it was continued pursuant to this Act, the registrar may, notwithstanding subsection 132(1), permit the entity to continue to refer in its articles to those shares, whether issued or unissued, as shares having a nominal or par value.

  - (b) in the notice mentioned in clause (a), state that a dissenting member and shareholder is entitled to be paid the fair value of his or her shares in accordance with Division 5, but failure to make that statement does not invalidate a discontinuance pursuant to this Act.
- (3) Each investment share of the credit union carries the right to vote with respect to a continuance whether or not it otherwise carries the right to vote.

- (4) The holders of a class of investment shares are entitled to vote separately as a class, and the holders of a series of investment shares are entitled to vote separately as a series only where that series is affected by a continuance in a manner that is different from the manner in which other investment shares of the same class are affected.
- (5) An application for continuance becomes authorized when the members and shareholders voting on continuance have separately approved the continuance by a special resolution.
- (6) If authorized by the members and shareholders at the time of approving an application for continuance pursuant to this section, the board may abandon the application without further approval of the members or shareholders.
- (7) On receipt of notice satisfactory to the registrar that the credit union has been continued pursuant to the laws of another jurisdiction, the registrar shall file the notice and issue a certificate of discontinuance in accordance with section 422.

- (10) A certificate of discontinuance may be dated as of the day the credit union is continued pursuant to the laws of another jurisdiction.
- (11) A credit union shall not be continued as an entity under the laws of another jurisdiction unless those laws provide, in effect, that:
- (a) the property of the credit union continues to be the property of the continued entity;
  - (b) the continued entity continues to be liable for the obligations of the credit union;
  - (c) an existing cause of action, claim or liability to prosecution is unaffected;
  - (d) a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding pending by or against the credit union may continue to be prosecuted by or against the continued entity; and

  - (b) fix or authorize the board to fix any of the terms and conditions of the sale, lease or exchange.
